Rabbi Mishkin's Message

“Making Ritual Meaningful”

This year springtime brings with it the reading of the Book of Leviticus. From the powerful and moving narratives of Exodus and Genesis we suddenly we plunge into the murky waters of this book with its overwhelming detail regarding sacrificial offerings. Needless to say, the modern world has taken a rather skeptical view of Leviticus' significance. That is to be expected. When topics such as ritual impurity, leprosy, animal and meal offerings take up much of the book, we hunger for a return to the stories of Genesis and Exodus. However, read Leviticus we must. Although there are those who question its relevance, I believe it behooves us to remind ourselves precisely what the Book of Leviticus is really about because it really isn't just about animal sacrifices and means of impurity. Fundamentally, Leviticus is about ritual and how it can impact our spiritual lives. Ritual presents us with a considerable challenge. All too often we risk allowing the rituals we practice to deteriorate into form void of feeling. However rituals, when done properly and with the proper kavanah (focus), can be most meaningful.

A column which appeared in the Wall Street Journal recently titled “Watching Over My Grandmother,” was written by a woman Bari Weiss about Judaism's rituals concerning death and burial. Here is how she begins her essay:

“How do the rituals of death teach us how to live more meaningful lives? As religions go, Judaism is far more concerned about what happens in this world than in the world to come. But as I learned this past weekend while burying my grandmother, Jewish rituals can serve not only to sanctify the dead, but also humanize the living.

My grandmother, Sandy Steiner, who moved in with my family from Los Angeles 25 years ago to help raise my three younger sisters and me, was 81 years old when she died at home shortly after the Sabbath began on Friday night. In Judaism, a dead body is never to be left alone between the time of death and the time of burial. It's a tradition called shmirah, or guarding, which dates to an ancient time when fear of rodents or grave-robbers was real.

Typically, the task is performed by volunteers, members of the community hevra kadi-sha –holy society – who do the watching in the funeral home. But if a person dies over the Sabbath the body cannot be buried or even removed. And so my grandmother's family quite literally became her guardians; Over a 24 hour period, her body covered on her bed, we watched over her.”

Ms. Weiss then describes the process that took place and how she made it more meaningful for her family. She writes, “My grandmother’s younger sister kept watch over Friday night. In the early-morning hours Saturday, I sat with my younger sister. In the afternoon, my father sat with my uncle, followed by other members who took turns as the shomer or guard. Traditionally, the shomer is supposed to sit quietly and recite psalms. Our grandma was not so into the psalms, but she could give you chapter and verse about the latest doings on E! and Bravo. And so we shared funny anecdotes about her, when we weren’t browsing through her copies of Vanity Fair or People. Surrounded by her books and family photos we were reminded of a full life lived as we sat beside the beautiful vessel of this woman we loved.”

Ms. Weiss goes on to tell of what her family did following the conclusion of the Sabbath, the process of the ritual washing and the ritual dressing of the deceased in the simple linen shrouds. She concludes her essay with a rendering of all the other traditional practices in Judaism regarding death and burial, everything from the plain wooden box serving as the coffin to the shoveling of the dirt at the graveside. After a detailed rendition of these ancient and practices, Ms. Weiss concludes her essay with the following words.

“My grandmother’s life’s work was as a caretaker for her family – in addition to bringing up three daughters, she helped raise four of her grandchildren. It is the natural way of things that those who have been caretakers ultimately become the cared for. In the last weeks of her life – diagnosed with terminal cancer after having survived bouts with breast and lung cancer, she didn’t cry – she was tended to around the clock by my mother and her two sisters, who made sure she died at home, surrounded by her family.

When so much in modern life is outsourced, there is something clarifying, maybe even purifying about witnessing a loved one’s final days. In caring for someone after death and being expected to take part in rituals at once deeply uncomfortable and comforting, I realized that Judaism was forcing us to examine our own lives and deeds – and ask ourselves: Are we putting our own vessels to their best use?”

Wiser words could not have been chosen as we begin contemplating the most inaccessible of all the books of the Torah, Leviticus. We can learn well from Ms. Weiss as we seek to have ritual play a more meaningful role in our lives today.

President's Message

We will be holding our Annual Budget Meeting on Thursday April 14 at 8:00 PM at the synagogue. Please attend this meeting so there is a quorum to vote and approve the budget for the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

I am working on the Slate of Officers for next year's Board. Please volunteer your time and take a position on the Synagogue Board or a Board committee. I have been very disappointed this year as all my requests for volunteers to join the Board were disregarded. You will find it very rewarding to serve your synagogue. JUST DO IT!! The Annual Membership meeting takes place on Thursday May 12 at 8:00 PM in the synagogue.

Our fundraising committee is busy with plans for the Journal Dinner Dance scheduled on Sunday June 5. We will be honoring Alice and David Honig, Marty Israel, Rysie and Jeff Perlman, and Dotty and Joe Shafran. This is our biggest fundraiser for the year with a goal of $27,500. It is vital that you support your synagogue by attending the dinner dance, purchasing an ad in the journal, and approaching local businesses to advertise in our journal. All donations are tax deductible, and businesses will be provided a donor tax receipt.

Spring has arrived, flowers are blooming, and Passover is right around the corner. As you discuss the Haggadah at your Seders with your children and grandchildren, and share all the Passover traditions, reflect on how blessed we are to be living in the United States. When you sing Lashana Habaa B'Rushalim, Next Year in Jerusalem, think about the exciting congregational trip to Israel being led by Rabbi Mishkin that will be leaving on May 15 and returning on May 26.

Harriet and I wish a Zeisen Pesach to the entire Beth Ohr Family!!!

Shalom,

Phil

Do a Mitzvah...Help Others Who Need Us

This year, Congregation Beth Ohr will once again participate in the Holiday Food Basket program for the Jewish Family Services. In this way, we can help needy families in our community to enjoy a traditional Pesach. JFS collects Passover food and prepares baskets for the families. We can choose to donate Kosher for Passover food, or we can make a cash donation.

If you have food to donate (please make sure everything is dated 2016), just place it in the food bin in the lobby of the Synagogue by Thursday, April 7th. Any monetary donations can be made out to Jewish Family Services and can be sent to the Synagogue office to the attention of Ira Donenfeld or Synagogue Office. If you need food to be picked up, please call Ira Donenfeld at 732-679-2652.

Last Pesach, the community distributed food baskets to over 600 families. This year we have more families in crisis. Please participate in this project, do a mitzvah, and help make the coming of Passover a little brighter for fellow Jewish families who are in need.

MEKHIRAT HAMETZ
(SALE OF LEAVEN 2016)

The Torah tells us that during Passover, “No leaven shall be found in your houses for seven days” (Exodus 12:19). The Rabbis understood this to mean that one could not own any hametz during the holiday. To prevent the financial hardship that would result from discarding all of one’s leaven on an annual basis, the rabbis developed a legal mechanism whereby an individual could sell his/her leaven to a non-Jew for the duration of the holiday.

PLEASE REMEMBER that even if you plan to be away from home for the entire holiday, you must still sell all the hametz you own. Similarly, should you own other property, or store leaven products in your office, you must still sell the hametz stored at those locations.

While there is no charge for the selling of leaven, it is customary to include a charitable contribution with the “Sale of Leaven” form.

PLEASE FILL OUT THE FORM BELOW AND RETURN IT TO THE SYNAGOGUE OFFICE WITH YOUR TZEDAKAH DONATION MADE OUT TO THE “RABBI’S DISCRETIONARY FUND” OR “JEWISH FAMILY SERVICES” NO LAT-

MISHKIN IN PERSON ON FRIDAY, APRIL 22ND AT THE FAST OF THE FIRST BORN SERVICE AT 7:30 A.M.)

THE UNDERSIGNED, BY HIS/HER/THEIR SIGNATURE(S), have herewith granted full Power-of-Attorney to Rabbi Joel Mishkin of Congregation Beth Ohr, concerning the sale of every product containing leaven or its derivatives in his/her/their possession, effective as of 12:00 PM. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on the 14th day of the Hebrew month of Nisan which is the day before the First Seder that night. This power of attorney includes the right to rent to the purchaser all storage space, vessels and receptacles wherein such merchandise is currently found, and may thus be enforced in the most effective manner in accordance with the laws of our Torah, as well as in accordance with the civil laws of the State of New Jersey.

This class is for those who know the Hebrew alphabet either from learning it in Part I, or in another adult education class, or back when you went to "cheder" back in Brooklyn or the Bronx or..... The goals of this course are to improve reading skills and fluency by using familiar prayers, and to expand comprehension. So if you recognize the letters but read VERY slowly, this will help increase your speed. Meanwhile, you will get some of the components of the Hebrew language and be able to identify new words and phrases which will assist you in understanding some of the most familiar prayers we read.

Sisterhood Message

I hope this article finds all of you healthy, happy and looking forward to the upcoming Purim and Passover holidays.

Lee Hyman has been working very hard to plan our annual Torah Fund Benefactor's reception honoring Ashna Pincus. It will be held on Sunday April 17, 2016. Join us for an afternoon of good food and good company as we thank Ashna for all of her hard work. Without people like her, we would not be the strong Sisterhood we are today!

We are also putting together our new Sisterhood slate. We are in need of ladies to serve as Programming Vice Presidents. Please contact Barbara Schneider if you are interested in joining our Sisterhood board for the 2016-2017 year.

Our annual Donor Dinner will be held on Wednesday, June 1, 2016. Please contact Liz Aroyo or Ilene Gray for details.

We are planning for our Fashion Show, scheduled for June 8, 2016. We are in need of models for this event! Please call Marilyn Karlstein or Lysa Rogol if you are interested. Also, we are still in need of donations of items to be raffled that evening. You can help with the Fashion Show by asking for donations from the vendors you frequent. We will also be happy with any new items that you can donate for our raffles. We need your support!

Roberta Bernstein has made all her calls for the Passover Lottery. Thank you for your support of the lottery each year. We will post the names of the winners when the time comes!

As always, thank you for supporting our many ongoing fund-raisers. We welcome and appreciate your help! And also, thank you for your continued support and participation at our Sisterhood events.

Shalom
